ABOUT US

The Global Summit on Traditional & Integrative Medicine (GSTIM 2027) is a premier international platform dedicated to advancing knowledge, research, and practice across traditional, complementary, and integrative healthcare systems. Scheduled for March 04-06, 2027, in Singapore, GSTIM 2027 will be hosted in a hybrid format, enabling both in-person and virtual participation from across the globe. The summit brings together clinicians, researchers, academicians, policymakers, and industry leaders to explore evidence-based approaches that integrate time-honored healing traditions with modern medical science. Our mission is to foster meaningful dialogue, promote scientific rigor, and support collaborative pathways that enhance patient-centered, holistic healthcare worldwide.

Theme: Integrative Approaches for Whole-Person Care

Set in the dynamic global hub of Singapore, GSTIM 2027 offers a unique opportunity for cross-cultural exchange and international collaboration. The hybrid model ensures inclusive access, allowing participants from diverse regions to engage, present, and network without barriers. Beyond scientific exchange, the summit seeks to inspire ethical practice, sustainability, and innovation in integrative medicine. GSTIM 2027 is committed to shaping the future of healthcare by empowering professionals, nurturing young researchers, and strengthening global partnerships that advance safe, effective, and holistic medical solutions for the benefit of humanity.
